Alyansa ng Mga Tagapagtanggol ng Wikang Filipino/TANGGOL WIKA:
Internal na Kwento, Mga Susing Argumento at Dokumento (2014-2017)

David Michael M. San Juan
Convenor, Tanggol Wika
Associate Professor, Departamento ng Filipino, De La Salle University-Manila

Ang papel na ito ay panimulang pagsasalaysay ng ilang inside story kaugnay ng pagtatatag ng Tanggol Wika – ang alyansang nanguna sa pakikibaka laban sa pagpapalig ng Commission on Higher Education (CHED) sa Filipino, Panitikan at Philippine Government and Constitution subjects sa kolehiyo at kapalid na organisasyon ng Alyansa ng Mga Tagapagtanggol ng Kasaysayan (Tanggol Kasaysayan), grupong nagtataguyod ng pagkakaroon ng required at bukod na asignaturang Philippine History/Kasaysayan ng Pilipinas sa hayskul – at pagtatatag ng mga susing argumento at mga dokumento kaugnay nito.

Nabuo ang Tanggol Wika sa isang konsultatibong forum noong Huriyo 21, 2014 sa De La Salle University-Manila (DLSU). Halos 500 delegado mula sa 40 paaralan, kolehiyo, unibersidad, organisasyong pangwika at pangkultura ang lumahok sa nasabing konsultatibong forum. Kasama sa mga tagapagsalita sa forum na iyon si Dr. Bienvenido Lumbera, Pambansang Alagad ng Sining. Ang forum na iyon ay kulminasyon ng mga nauna pang kolektibong inisyatiba mula pa noong 2012.

Noong 2011 pa ay kumakalat na ang plano ng gobyerno kaugnay ng pagbabawas ng mga asignatura sa kolehiyo, bagamat wala pang inilalabas na opisyal na dokumento sa panahong iyon, gaya ng inilahad sa isang saliksik na iprinisenta sa 2nd DLSU International Education Congress (San Juan, 2011): "As per popular speculations in the academic community (based on the researcher's actual conversations with tertiary level teachers from at least 6 universities in Metro Manila), the General Education Curriculum (GEC) will be trimmed down at the tertiary level. Purportedly, some (if not all) of the GEC subjects will be absorbed by the two-year senior high school curriculum. Unfortunately, there's no way to immediately verify the veracity of such speculations due to the dearth of publicly available materials regarding how DepEd intends to implement K to 12 on a piece-meal basis, another proof that this current education reform is a haphazard 'top-down' imposition rather than a well-thought product of consensus among stakeholders in the education sector. Nevertheless, it is safe to assume that the speculations are partly valid, considering that the current K to 12 scheme intends to offer English, Science, Mathematics, Filipino and Contemporary Issues as the 'core learning areas' in senior high school (Grades 11 and 12) so that after graduation, 'students are already prepared for employment, entrepreneurship, or middle-level skills development and can thus lead successful lives even if they do not pursue higher studies' (Senate Briefer, 2011). If the GEC subjects will be the 'core Recently, it called upon a famous Filipino broadcaster to apologize for "belittling" the Philippine national language when the latter called the language as "bullshitty" as a reaction to a presidential debate conducted in the Filipino language.[20][21] Many of its convenors also signed a statement (written in Filipino) condemning Senator Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos, Jr. (a vice-presidential candidate in the 2016 elections) for the latter's portrayal of his father Ferdinand Marcos, Sr.'s dictatorship as an alleged "golden age" of the Philippines.[22][23][24][25] It has also endorsed ACT Teachers Partylist (among the founding organizations of Tanggol Wika) and the senatorial bid of Bayan Muna Rep. Rappler. series of 2013; and 3) Use Filipino language as a medium of instruction in different subjects; and 4) Push for nationalistic education in the Philippines.[2] In 2015, Tanggol Wika filed[3] a Philippine Supreme Court petition (the first-ever petition written in Filipino,[4] which is the Philippines' national language) - backed by partylist groups and various personalities[5] - to stop the implementation of CHED Memorandum Order No. 20, Series of 2013, remarking that it disregards the pro-national language spirit of the framers of the 1987 Philippine Constitution, the same Constitution's emphasis on nationalism and cultural awareness as core values of Philippine education, and the same Constitution's pro-labor provisions that give workers - including teachers and workers in the education sector - the right to participate in policy-making activities.[6] Subsequently, Tanggol Wika scored an initial victory in its legal battle against CHED Memorandum Order No. 20, Series of 2013 when the Philippine Supreme Court issued a temporary restraining order against the said government policy which remains valid until further court orders.[7][8] The group pushes for its advocacies through forums,[9][10][11] rallies at the CHED office,[12][13][14] at the Supreme Court,[15][16] in Mendiola near Malacañan Palace and other venues,[17] and social media campaigns. ^ "Ched has yet to decide on calls to retain Filipino as college subject - Bulatlat".
